The story A jewels story

It's during her humanities studies that Louise creates her first jewels as a self-taught woman, by imagining the jewels that the literature heroines would wear.

All kinds of inspirations mix themselves to her readings: the women she rubs shoulders with, their everyday life, art, vintage references and bargain-hunted treasures, reinterpreted through her vision of the jewel and femininity.

The unique jewels designs are thought up by Louise and created in our parisian workshop. From the model to the assembly, they are the indicator of a hand-crafted savoir-faire, dear to the designer and her brand.

The Louise Damas collections are as unique as the others. Giving free rein to her creative mind, Louise creates two collections per year, accompanied by two capsule collections, that come then to punctuate the year in a spontaneous way.

Pushed by the conviction that a jewel has to last for a long time, the brand doesn't follow any trend or seasonality and the collections are kept years after years. A Louise Damas jewel is a timeless jewel, that can be worn during any season, today as well as tomorrow.

Bubbly and radiant, the Louise Damas brand is just like its designer who makes it a point of honor to showcase all women to enhance them without ever hiding them. Based on the conviction that "every woman is the heroine of her own story", Louise Damas invites all women to write their own.

The jewels

Jewels made with care

Sketch, model, mold, polishing, weld, gilding, enameling, setting and assembly: all the Louise Damas jewels are handmade, in Paris, from the design to the production of the jewel.

Their so characteristic golden colour is the first thing that comes to the mind when we think about the Louise Damas jewels. They are in tin and brass gilded with 24k gold and don't contain lead, nickel, nor cadmium, for our team's and the ones who wear our jewels' well-being. The clasps and rods are in silver gilded with 24k gold, for optimum comfort and to avoid any risk of allergy.

The Louise Damas hallmark is a care about details at the heart of the creation, but also comfortable jewels conceived to be worn everyday. The jewels are thought up and examined from every angle : they are conceived to be elegant from behind but also full-face. Refined pieces coming from the most meticulous work.

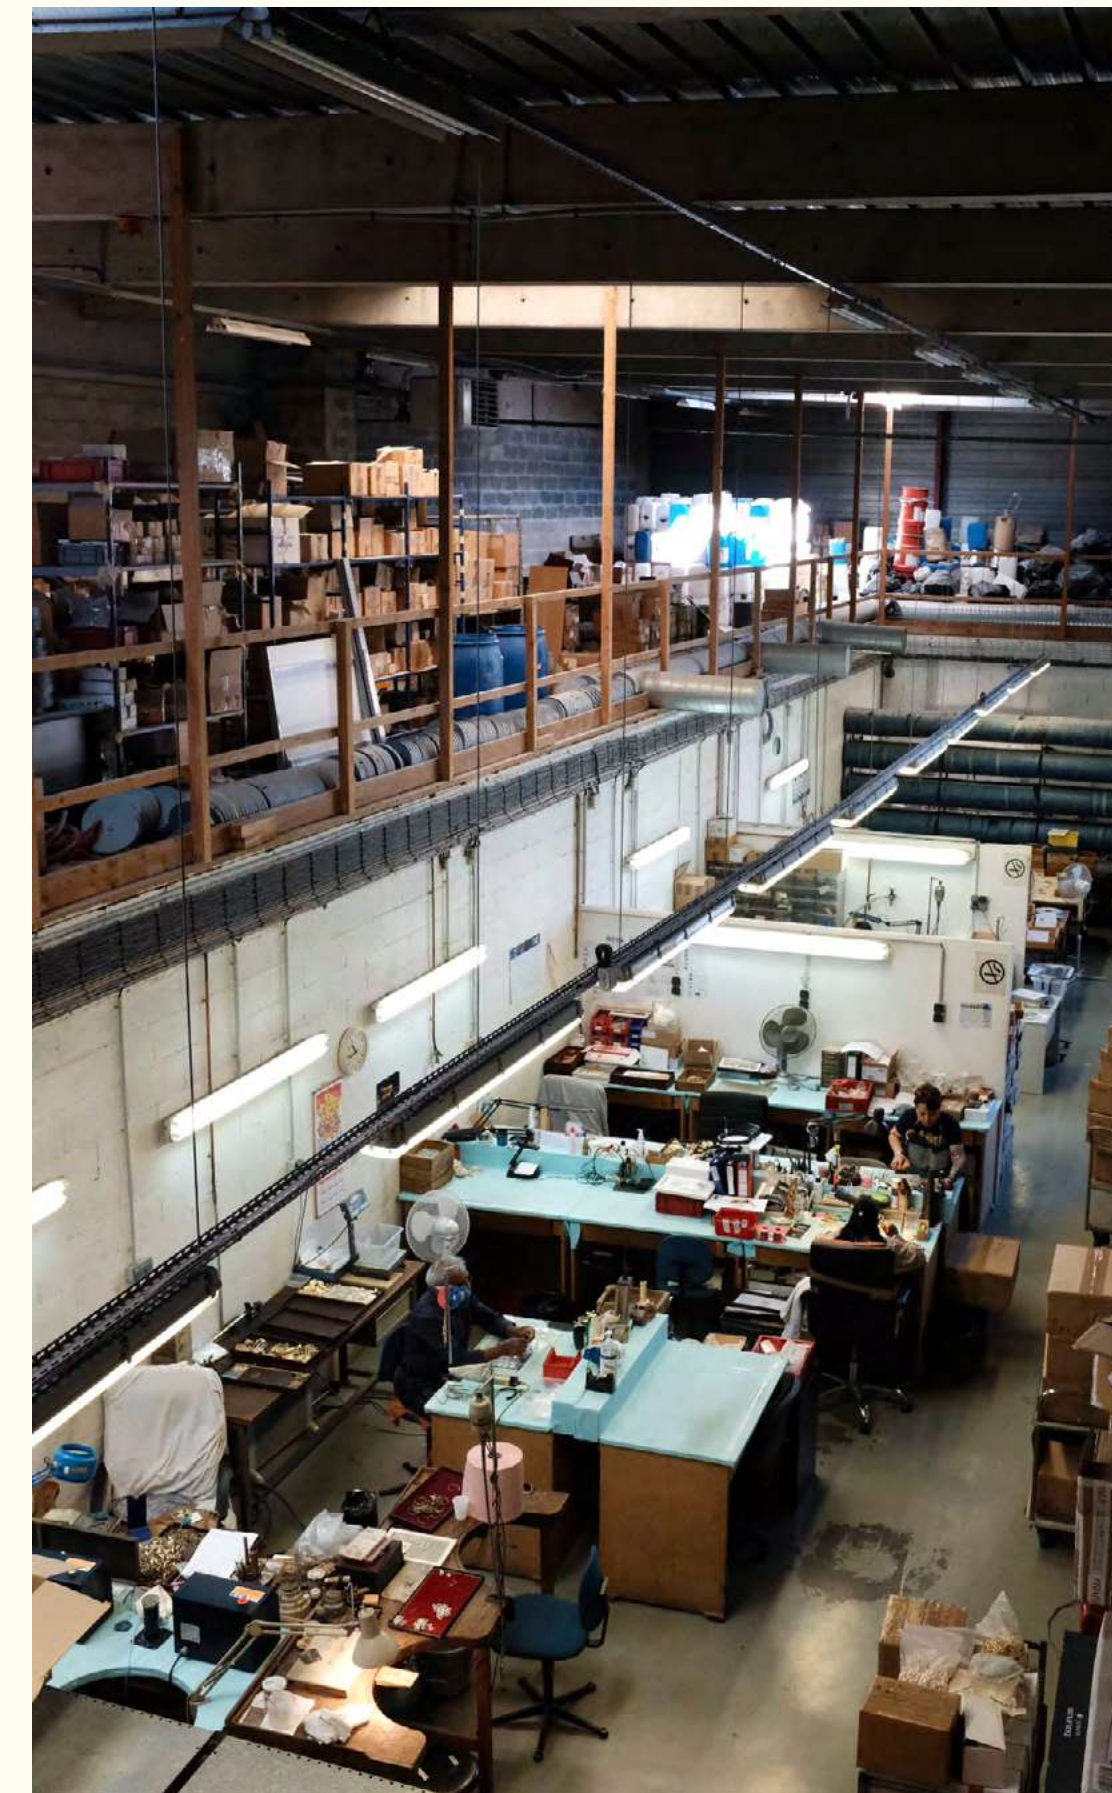

The Louise Damas jewels production works around values dear to the designer and her team. As a brand that doesn't believe in short-lived trends and fast fashion, we produce in a sustainable way and only in a small quantity, while being attentive to our client's needs.

A small price jewellery that stays inflexible about quality; we constantly push the limits of our creativity, to offer an affordable savoir-faire. We create molds in our workshop to offer unique and original designs to our clients. A long and meticulous practice, specific to the handmade jewels production.

Our workshop is clean and certified zero emission : the tin is recycled, the wastewater treated and reused, the defective jewels refounded. At Louise Damas, we favor local distribution channels, this is why we source our materials mainly in Europe.

To accompany our clients as long as possible, our jewels have a lifetime warranty and we propose regilding and reparation services.
